

Arava Institute-BGU Minor in Environmental Studies Scholarship

This scholarship is supported by Barbara Epstein Sivan and is designed to promote the Arava Institute while providing financial aid for students studying at BGU.

Introduction:

The Arava Institute, in cooperation with Ben-Gurion University of the Negev (BGU), offers a minor in Environment and Society to Israeli undergraduate students. If after completing this minor at the Arava Institute, a student is accepted to BGU, the Minor in Environment and Society will be recognized by BGU.

Scholarship Details

Students will apply for this scholarship through the Office of the Dean of Students at BGU. A scholarship of up to $3000 per year will be awarded to students who fit the following criteria:

- Student is currently studying at the Arava Institute for Environmental Studies and is a registered non degree student at BGU
- Student displays financial need
- Student displays academic promise

The student's scholarship will be approved while the student is completing studies, at the Arava Institute but will only be awarded once the student has been accepted as an undergraduate degree student and been credited with a Minor in Environment and Society based on the studies at the Arava Institute (described above)

A committee comprised of the head of Arava Institute and BGU officials will determine student eligibility.
